

THE BLESSING BULLETIN

November 20, 2023

PROGRESS REPORT

With improved health, I am now able to start the process of raising funds once again. I need $2400 a month to be fully funded. I am excited to share about the Blessing with churches and individuals. My goal is to find 24 ministry partners who would pledge $100 a month so that I can be in Florida in March 2024. Would you pray with me that God would touch the hearts of those He wants to be part of caring for those sharing Jesus with the world? Thank you!

“PRAISE GOD FROM WHOM ALL BLESSINGS FLOW”

The month of November is a great time to reflect. The changing leaves and the preparation for Thanksgiving allow us to pause and count our many blessings. For me, one of the biggest blessings is being able to “push play” after many months of pause.

Shortly after my announcement that I was officially partnering with Life Impact, my body began experiencing lots of unusual symptoms. Honestly, I thought that they would find the issue very quickly. In May, I pressed pause to deal with my failing health.

After nearly 8 months of symptoms, I finally received a diagnosis. As I shared last month, it isn’t curable, but it is treatable. Thanks to the supplements, I am feeling much better! While I am still not 100%, I have been able to slowly add more and more to my schedule. I am thankful that I am no longer stuck on pause.

As I read through my updates from earlier this year, I realized that this time has not been wasted. God knew how much my body needed rest. He also allowed me to continue learning useful coaching skills and build a media presence as I waited.

More than one of my personal deadlines has come and gone. If I had had my way, I would already be moved in and receiving guests. However, God knew that the Blessing wasn’t meant to begin in 2023.

I do believe that the Blessing IS meant to be up and operating in 2024. I am excited to see how God is going to orchestrate everything! Once God has brought together my complete team of ministry partners, I will make the move to Florida.

THANKFUL FOR YOU!!

I wouldn’t be able to follow God’s call without each of you. This past year has been a vivid example to me of the importance of community. Without your faithful love, friendship, prayers, and partnership, I would have given up. I can think of multiple occasions when I received a text, phone call, or email when I needed it the most. Thank you so much! This Thanksgiving, I am so very thankful for you!!!
