PRAISING GOD

God has been doing some BIG things! I have no doubt that God has been working behind the scenes from the very moment that He gave me the vision for the Blessing. However, there have been so many visible ways that He has been working since my return to WV near the end of February. I am so thankful that He loves me and cares for me in ways that I can't even begin to imagine. He is so good! He is so great! Let's praise Him together!

Amid health issues last summer, I set up a website to promote the Blessing. Over the past eight months, I have been able to add regular blog posts. More recently, I have added photos, videos, a new version of the project overview, and even a link for donations. If you haven't had a chance to check out the site, I would encourage you to do so.

But I digress, there is also the option to contact me. Since August, I have received multiple messages. A recent message caught my attention. It was from a global worker serving in Europe. It contained multiple questions including the possibility of staying at the Blessing in July.

I would love to be able to say "yes" to inquiries like this one. There are so many individuals who would benefit from a stay at the Blessing. Please pray with me that the Blessing will be up and running in July.

PRAY BIG!!

On April 13th, I spoke at a tea for ladies. The topic was prayer. As we looked at the teaching of Jesus on the subject, it became clear that He taught that we should pray like children. One of the great things about kids is that they ask for and expect BIG things.

I am praying BIG!! Over the past two weeks, close friends have been approaching churches on my behalf. One of those friends sent me a text with the words "PRAY BIG!!" as part of her message. By my count, at least 6 churches will be receiving information about the Blessing. Please pray big with me that God will complete the Blessing team.

EMERALD COAST CHURCH NETWORK

During my six weeks on Okaloosa Island, I met a pastor who said he thought pastors in the area would be interested in the Blessing. On Saturday, I will be flying down to Fort Walton Beach, Florida. I will be attending the quarterly meeting of the Emerald Coast Church Network on Monday morning. This pastor will be introducing me to approximately 25 pastors in the area. Please pray with me for traveling safety and God's perfect will to be done as I share about the Blessing with this group. Thank you!!
