BEREA MINISTRIES

May has a way of moving quickly.

One minute it feels like there's still plenty of time... and the next, summer plans are already starting to take shape.

Calendars begin to fill.
Schedules settle in.
And what once felt open becomes more defined.

And if you've been meaning to think about summer — this is your moment to pause and consider it.

Not in a pressure way.
But in a “this is when things start to take shape” kind of way.

---

Why This Moment Matters

As May begins:
School events stack up
Sports schedules finalize
Vacations get locked in
And summer availability starts to narrow

Most families and churches don't plan all at once.

What Are We Actually Planning For?

It's easy to think about summer in terms of logistics:

- Dates
- Schedules
- What fits where

But what you're really choosing is something deeper.

It happens gradually...
until suddenly, the best options aren't as open as they once were.

And every year, we hear a version of the same thing:

“I wish we had taken a closer look a little earlier.”

You're choosing:

- The environment your child steps into
- The people who will influence them
- The experiences that will shape them
- The space they'll have to grow

Because camp isn't just something to do.

It's something that forms.

Three Camps. One Purpose.

Each Berea Ministries camp creates growth differently — but with the same heart behind it.

🔥 Camp Berea – Heat Wave

High-energy, imaginative programming where bold faith and unforgettable moments go hand in hand.

Big games. Big worship. Big joy.
And intentional care behind every detail.

▲ Camp Monadnock – Ascend

A relational, retreat-style week where students feel known, welcomed, and safe to grow.

Slower pace. Deep conversations.
A “welcome home” kind of belonging

🌲 Camp Kerith – Kit Camp

An outdoors-first experience where confidence grows through challenge, mentorship, and time in creation.

Not rushed. Not flashy. Just steady growth in the right environment.

Camp Isn't Just a Week.

It's:

- - Confidence that shows up later
- - Friendships that carry into the school year
- - Faith conversations that continue at home
- - Independence that builds over time

And those things don't happen accidentally.

They happen when families and leaders choose intentionally.

May is when summer starts to come into focus.

Not because of pressure.

But because this is when decisions begin to take shape.

If camp is part of your summer, this is a good moment to step in — while there's still space to choose what fits best.

We'd love to help you find the right place.

☀️ Summer is coming into focus.
